— terre d'Oc's commitment —

Since 1995, from Haute-Provence to the whole world, we are a collective of women, and also a few men, who are passionate and committed to creating a more beautiful and united world.

Whether it's a tea, a candle, a scented water or a blend of essential oils, we craft through our exchanges and meetings products that do good.

Small changes lead to bigger ones...

We believe that everyone is able to have a positive impact on society. This starts with our own choices of consumption.

Every day, we strive to create and manufacture wellness products that are beautiful, good and healthy, in a qualitative and ethical manner, and that are friendly to our planet and its inhabitants.

As female and male creators, we add an additional challenge to our approach: that of taking care of and promoting the talents of women throughout the world, because for us, sustainability is not possible without equal opportunities.

Thus, we believe we can enable our customers to contribute at their level to a more sustainable and inclusive world. Because our products invite to take time for yourself first. And because they are made with 100 % organic or natural ingredients and in an ethical manner, always.

We believe in the symmetry of caring.

Buying a Terre d'Oc product means contributing to a more global approach to the redistribution of wealth and the development of women's talents throughout the world.

For this reason too, we have become a company with a mission since July 2021. At terre d'Oc, we are through inheritance craftswomen and men of the senses. We invite you to indulge yourself and others with our products, as they yield a happy and generous experience of caring for yourself, others, women, our planet.

Laure Vincent - CEO

terre d'Oc, our products

AT TERRE D'OC WE STRIVE TO ENSURE THAT ALL OUR PRODUCTS ARE:

APPEALING GOOD

that they bring joy and emotion stemming from beauty.

that they were designed through fair trade as much as possible and by developing channels directly from the producer, where everyone benefits from solidarity actions while preserving our planet's resources and biodiversity.

HEALTHY

requirement for naturalness, priority given to organic or certified natural ingredients.

Finally, our products highlight THE TALENT OF WOMEN: our sourcing promotes women's groups and their autonomy, bringing together talented women in France and around the world.

— terre d'Oc, mission-driven company —

OUR RAISON D'ÊTRE

"To design and manufacture good, healthy wellness products based on an approach that protects natural resources and biodiversity, developing at the same time organic and fair trade sectors and highlighting the work done by women
all over the world."

OUR COMMITMENTS

Commitment 1

To create responsible wellness products with an eco-design approach while building a community of consumers who share our « raison d'être ».

Commitment 2

To promote ethical organic sourcing with local channels, promoting the work of small producers in France and around the world.

Commitment 3

To preserve our planet by improving our carbon footprint and promoting recycled materials and waste recycling.

Commitment 4

To highlight the talent and work of women in France and around the world and support them in their projects.

Commitment 5

Promote our employees well-being through a good work-life balance, increasing their skills and offering a pleasant work environment.

In May 2023, we had our first mission company audit carried out by an ITO (Independent Third Party Organisation). The ITO issued a favourable opinion because all our statutory objectives have been met to date.

terre d'Oc, born of women's talent

From the Haute-Provence region to the entire world, passionate and committed women exchange and meet to create products that do good.

The talent of women in our society is not always perceived at its true value. We believe that our consumer choices can contribute to a better exposure and valorisation of women, and thus to the progress of our society.

From one region to another, from Asia to Africa, women cultivate tea trees and hand-pick spring buds according to ancestral traditions, women gather shea nuts to make butter, women make rattan rods while looking after their children's education.

Others are scouring the foothills of the mountains for new crops in the best organic gardens or mythical plantations, or they're travelling to try and find a fairer trade.

Meanwhile, on the other side of the Mediterranean, in Provence, some design and make subtle and refined flavours or create products with a unique character, thinking of the good they could do to other women.

Others draw or fill pretty colorful tea tins.

Finally, others pour thousands of cups, taste each harvest and assess the leaves and flavours quality!

A citizen of the world, altruistic, militant, passionate and ethical, terre d'Oc believes in and advocates « Women Empowerment » and sisterhood by promoting each of the women involved in the making of its products, from planting to marketing.

Sensory Collection

Inspired by women

Since the dawn of time, women have been an inexhaustible source of inspiration. Their courage, creativity and dedication have given birth to captivating stories and fuelled our imagination. With this in mind, we have created a sensory collection that pays tribute to these wonderful women.

Each fragrance name we have chosen is a nod to women. Each fragrance embodies and tells a unique story, capturing the essence and spirit of these inspiring women.

Laotong Mandarin yuzu

Laotong is an ode to freedom, a representation of the modern woman, full of both vitality and sensitivity... From the very first notes, an intrepid duo of freshness and tonicity is revealed, with yuzu and mandarin on a soft, majestic woody base.

Laotong means « sister of the heart ». In China, it was a contract that bound the friendship of two girls until their death. They would write to each other in « nushu », a coded script designed by and for women to enable them to communicate with each other discreetly.

Udani White tea cotton

Udani is a poetic creation imagined in the heart of a tea garden under a misty sky... A soft, loving fragrance where the floral scents of fluffy white tea leaves mingle with exquisite notes of apricot, rose and violet on a powdery vanilla musk base. For a warm, comforting mood...

Udani, a vibrant tribute to our tea pickers in Sri Lanka, where women cultivate tea and hand-pick the delicate spring buds according to age-old traditions.

Nerolina

Orange blossom

Nerolina embodies the feminine creative power of softness and sensuality... A luminous floral heart around orange blossom, both comforting and opulent, on a base of musk mixed with cedar for an addictive and unexpected signature. For a refined floral mood...

Nerolina was inspired by the influential 17th-century princess Bracciano de Nerola, who became addicted to orange blossom and decided to rename it Neroli.

Ori maohi

Monoï flower

Like an ode to sensuality... the sun shimmering on the sand, the sound of the waves crashing on the shore, the scattered foam of the ocean mingling with the intoxicating scents of Monoï flowers and ylang-ylang on a base of vanilla and coconut. For a sunny mood...

A fragrance imbued with a solar femininity inspired by the exhilarating, swaying dances of the Polynesian dancers at the Heiva celebrations in Tahiti.

Body care

A complete range of transparent cosmetics designed around naturalness, sensoriality, effectiveness and eco-design.

A cheerful, colourful range with natural fragrances to delight your senses every day!

Bai Mu Dan (white Peony) harvested in spring in the Province of Fujian is made up of the leaf tip which is covered in a silvery down and the following two leaves (fine harvest). There are only two operations in the preparation: sunned-wilting followed by dessication. Once reserved for emperors and noblemen, the first harvest of white tea dates back to the 18th century and the Qing dynasty. Its refined aroma of cut grass blends beautifully with the appetizing sweetness of orange blossom.

80 g - SKU : TOTHTHOTOU080A

The Tuaregs' favourite tea is a green China tea whose leaves are rolled into the shape of tiny dark green pearls which crackle in the teapot, which is how they got their name (Gunpowder). The desert nomads offer green mint tea to the visitor following an unchanging ritual: three brews, from the sweetest to the bitterest, are successively served in little glasses. The three teas symbolize life, love and death. The large quantity of mint leaves gives this tea with a very sharp, vegetable and fresh taste. It is drunk very hot for its thirst-quenching and digestive benefits.

Blend of green Sencha tea & Matcha powder. Introduced to Japan by Buddhist monks, matcha is traditionally used for the tea ceremony. Three weeks before the leaves are harvested, the tea trees are shaded in order to allow them to develop silky, milky aromas. Reduced to a fine powder, the matcha is mixed with the Sencha tea needles, to give a full-bodied and gentle liquor that the Japanese call umami (savoury).

There are so many stories behind the origins of Earl Grey tea that it has become a real myth! This tea gets its name from Earl Grey. One of his servants had the brilliant idea of adding a slice of bergamot to set off the flavour of the black tea. Earl Grey was absolutely enchanted by the exquisite taste and the originality of the brew and he popularized the recipe. Earl Grey tea became one of the most widely drunk teas in the world!

Organic Korean green tea yuzu flavour

80 g - SKU : TOTHTHOCOR080A

Grown in South Korea on the island of Jeju, known as « the island of the gods » due to its climate and pure air, its highly fertile volcanic soil and incredible biodiversity, this green tea with its long summer leaves, brewed in a wok following age-old Korean tradition, gives a marvellously soft and mellow liquor. It blends wonderfully with the aromatic and very exotic flavour of yuzu, a small strong-flavoured citrus fruit whose taste is somewhere between that of the Ichang lemon, lime and wild mandarin! Very popular in Korea, yuja tea (유자차 yuja-cha) is made from yuja (yuzu) with its refreshing and comforting properties.
